TWO DOLLAR WHEAT One Box Dodd's Kidney Pills Relieves Mrs. Frey's Rheun

rially increase its ranks in the next

Today, the price of wheat is set by the United States government at $2.20 per bushel, and in Canada the price has been set at $2.21. This, of course. is less freight and handling charges which brings the average to the farmers at about $2.00 per bushel. This price will pay so long as land, material and labor can be secured at reasonable prices. It remains for the would-be producer to ascertain where he can secure these at prices that will make the production of grain profitable. He will estimate what price he can afford to pay for land that will give him a yield of wheat which when sold at $2.00 per bushel, will return him a fair profit. Local and social conditions will also enter into the consideration. Finding what he wants he would be wise to make his purchase now. Land prices in same portions of the country are low, certainly as low as they will ever be. City property and town property will fluctuate, but farm property will hold its own. The price of grain is as low as it will be for some years. Therefore it would be well to look about, and find what can be done.

There are doubtless many opportunities in the United States, especially in the Western States, to purchase good agricultural lands, that will produce well, at reasonable prices. If the would-be buyer has the time to investigate, and that is needed, for these lands do not exist in any considerable area, he would be well repaid. Not only will his land certainly increase in value-the unearned increment would be an asset-while under cultivation he can find nothing that will give better results. He will at the same time be performing a patriotic act, a needful act, one that would meet with the food controller's plea to increase agricultural production and assist in reducing the deficit of 75 million bushels of wheat reported by the controller.

In addition to the vacant lands in the United States which should be robe and slippers that have been all brought under cultivation, Western Canada offers today the greatest area of just the land that is required, and at low prices-prices that cannot last long. Even now land prices are increasing, as their value is daily becoming more apparent, and their location destrable.

As to the intrinsic value of land In Western Canada, hundreds of concrete cases could be cited, which go to prove that at fifty and sixty dollars per acre-figures that have recently been paid for improved farms-the crops grown on them gave a profit of from twenty to thirty per cent and even higher, on such an investment, One instance, is that of a young Englishman, unaccustomed to farming before he took his seat on the sulky plow with which he does most of his work, after allowing himself $1,000 for his own wages last year, made a profit of $2,200 on a $20,000 investment. His total sales amounted to $5,700 and his expense, which included the $1,000 wages for himself, was $3,500. The Interest was 111/2 per cent.

To the man who does not care to buy or who has not the means to purchase, but possesses wealth in his own bardihood, his muscle, and determination, there are the thousands of free homesteads of which he may have the pick on paying an entry fee of ten dollars. Inese are high class lands and adapted to all kinds of farming. Send to your nearest Canadian Government Agent for literature, descriptive of the splendid opportunities that are still open in Western Canada. Adv.

This Price Will Hold For Some Years.

A well advise: commercial authority gives it as his opinion, "as a slow, descent may be counted on in the prices for grain when the war ends—it may take several years to restore the world's stock of foodstuffs to normal—there is good ground for confidence in the outlook for rapid development in agriculture."

If this be correct, it follows that the profession of farming will materially increase its ranks in the next

Relieves Mrs. Frey's Kheumatism

Mrs. Ira Frey, of Le Mars, Ia, suffered for six long months with the agonies of rheumatism. Then she heard of Dodd's Kidney Filis and bought a box. Here is what she writes:

"For six long months with the agonies of rheumatism. Then she heard of Dodd's Kidney I suffered greatly from backache. My limbs feit heavy, and I had a dragging separation across my loins. I had a great deal of pain in the top of my head, was often dizzy and had flashes of light and floating specks before my eyes. I had heart flutterings and could not sleep well. My appetite was fitted and the first heavy and steepy after meals. I suffered from shortness of breath. After taking one box of Dodd's Kidney Pilis I was much improved."

Mighty few people realize in time that the profession of farming will materially increase its ranks in the next.

How Did She Welcome Him? When the wife of a certain Kansas City judge arose one morning this week she found herself voiceless from some slight affection of the throat, The judge rather mischlevously waited until breakfast was over to call the familiy physician, and then be went on down to his office. At quitting time that afternoon the judge called his home and one of the servants answered the telephone.

"How's the missus?" he asked. "Can she talk yet?" "Oh, yes," replied the servant.

"She's all right now." "Well," said the judge. "Well, you tell her I'll be on home pretty soon, anyway."-Kansas City Star.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surfaces.

National Capital Really a City That Is "Slow"

W ASHINGTON,—America's war capital is no place for the woman who loves pleasure, Pleasure simply isn't here. For years Washington has slept, contented with itself and its social life. Former winters have had their little dinners, their little dances and their little suppers, and the THERE ISIT BOR MUCH HERE pleasure-seekers have gone to New York or Philadelphia for their plens-TO EXCITE ures. Washington slept on. Now the national capital finds itself in the midst of a great boom. There are hundreds of newcomers here who love pleasure and need it after the strenuous days. Washington has nothing to offer them. Other cities offer cafes and restaurants, where there are bright lights and music for tired and strained nerves. Washington has nothing of the kind.

no reason why anyone should want to be out after ten o'clock at night. They lock their doors. Theaters in Washington-a city of 400,000 population-are limited to two houses playing legitimate attractions and one first-class vaudeville house. When a real attraction comes the demand for seats is so great that the box office finds no protest when the prices are boosted generously.

The few restaurants that do offer music are managed by men who can see

Washington is still a ville e, in that its pleasures are family pleasures. Little social groups find enjoyment in each other's society, but they rarely venture away from the boundaries of their own little community.

The wildest excitement that is offered to a girl in Washington is the afternoon promenade on F street. Up and down, up and down they go, all dressed up in their finery. Some of them tote little dogs along, and some of them tote mothers; but up and down they go. It is just a fashion show. Each girl goes out to see what her neighbor has in the way of new clothes. On the corners they gather to gossip for a few minutes and pass on. The time of the gay Lothario has passed. He used to be a part of this promenade, but now he has gone to war, or, if he hasn't, he finds no pleasure in the F street promenade.

Serious Work All That Interests Washington

A THE White House, the hub around which the circle of war preparation revolves, there is no excitement at all. Mr. Wilson lives a most regular life and daily takes his exercise. In spite of the strain of a world-conflict he appears to be in excellent health. The two great iron gates by which entrance is gained to the approach of the executive mansion and kept locked and within reach is constantly a sturdy It is at these gates that the pickets have so often had their battle with an indignant crowd. There are few people about the house and only the family and a few friends enter. When the president takes his drive down Sixteenth street he is always accompanied by several secret service ceaseless stream of khaki-colored men with stern faces, Nor does work stop at night. After darkness settles over the city a flood of light pours out of the windows, and into cool shadow of the gray silence there drifts the whang of the whirring machine and the glitter of electricity telling that Uncle Sam is still grinding his sword.

All Are Brushing Up on the French Language

STUDYING French is one of the great war industries in Washington. It divides honors with knitting. An interesting phase of this situation is that nobody really seems to be studying French, but is "merely brushing up" on it.

No doubt many persons at one time or another learned to repeat something like "Il fait beau temps," "passez moi du pain," "avec plaisir," "si'l vous plait." Which, of course, constituted familiarity with the French language, a rather small and easily acquired language, to be learned sometimes in seven lessons or thereabouts. Current conversation runs something like this: "Oh, yes! you see, I'm just brushing up on my French; I find that I have become a little rusty; it is really amusing how a language slips away from one, isn't it?" The language seems to have merely "slipped away" from so many persons that there must have been a time when all Americans spoke French. Perhaps some of these persons who are merely brushing up their French are like the pool player who, after dramatically chalking the cork tip, misses the cue ball and tears the cloth of the table and then delivers himself of this:

"There was a time when I played some pool-believe me, some pool! Man! there were no pockets too small or too far away for me to drop the balls into as fast as I could shoot 'em. I always had a great gallery when I played and men would walk ten miles on a muddy day to see me put 'em in. Once I played a game with De Oro, but I didn't give him a chance to shoot. But I haven't had a cue in my hand for some time and am a little out of

Life in Capital Not All One Glittering Joy

THEY met near the market Tuesday. One of them might have been any other small-waged woman—with that worry line that comes from forever because she chewed gum and polished her nails on the back of her sleeve. But you have missed her. Where has she gone? She is here in Washington.

What brought her here? War

Washington today has some 20,000 more girls than it had at the outbreak of the war. The answer is plenty of government work and good wages. Government departments are crying louder every day for stenographers. The civil service commission is recruiting stenographers all over the country and bringing them to Washington. Salaries range from $1,000 a year upward. The consequence has been an inefficient stenographic corps for Washington. The rush of work is so great that it has been impossible to get efficient stenographers, and girls who never made more than $40 a month are now drawing from $90 to $150 per month.

But life isn't altogether gay for the little stenographer, even though she works short hours for long pay. She has lost the gay life of her home city. No matter what the city, it is gayer than Washington. The town has not awakened to the possibilities thrust upon it by the war boom and consequently there is an utter lack of amusement facilities.

So your little chewing gum friend is right here in the war capital, working at a salary that perhaps might even tempt you, her former contemporary of the stronger sex.

AN ATTACK OF GRIP USUALLY LEAVES KIDNEYS IN WEAKENED CONDITION

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run-down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggiste report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon hoals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who re-quests it. A trial will convince anyone who may be in need of it. Regular medium and large size bottles, for sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.-Adv.
